For information regarding counseling and sacraments in German, please contact Rev. James Boniface Ramsey, Pastor (212-289-6030).

General Meeting & Elections submitted by Jan Kessler

Many of our members were up early and attending German mass at St. Josephs and then joined up with everyone else at the start of the General Meeting at Kolping House. Katrina Dengler, President of the Board welcomed everyone to the General Elections and Board Elections Meeting. We were so pleased to have our guests Cpt. Charles Brown and 9 other cadets from West Point. We are very grateful that the cadets all take time out of their busy schedules to help us during the spring and fall cleanup at Kolping on Hudson.

First on the agenda was a wonderful buffet which included Beef bourguignon, with spaetzle, along with chicken, gravy, mash potatoes and steamed vegetables. Thanks to our wonderful Kolping House Staff Wolfgang, Geovanny, Miquel, Maximo, Angel, Ray and Ken for all the work they do to prepare our meeting room and a delicious meal for this annual event. Donna Richardson, Jerry Ladenhauf, Chris Ulrich and Therese Dengler all helped out with serving.

Right after lunch it was back to business. Katrina Dengler, Gerhard Schmitt, Lou Colletti introduced Bernie Preisser, Bob Hemsing, John Reitter, Heidi Umland as they each gave us financial reports and house reports for each of our Kolping locations. All of our board members, committee members, managers, staff and volunteers spend many hours overseeing projects and making decisions that will continue to maintain a very strong society for years to come. KOH will be very busy with many events that are booked for the summer and our members will be celebrating weddings, anniversaries, birthdays and family reunions. Kolping House offers short term rentals to men that are coming and going from all over the world for work, internships and educational opportunities and they also have many groups that rent the ballroom or conference room for meetings and events. Kolping on Concourse has longer term tenants that reside in a beautiful building and are able to enjoy delicious lunches and dinners prepared by our Kolping staff.

Albert Sartorius, Sr. and Gerhard Schmitt presided over our Board Elections. We are pleased to know that our Sr. Board Members Ann Hemsing, John Noonan and Richard Brunhuber have all been reelected and will continue to serve on our board of directors. Our Jr. Member board members Peter Carruthers and Albert Sartorius, Jr. were also reelected. Linda Szoldatits decided not to continue serving on the board and we do thank her for all her hard work and dedication over the past year. We congratulate Chuck Smith who was elected to serve on the board and we look forward to his sharing all of his expertise to the matters at hand.

Thank you to all the Kolping members that participated and those that attended the General Meeting and Board Elections. We look forward to a very exciting and successful year ahead.

DAN'S SOLEMN PROFESSION Gratefully submitted by the Bernard Dengler family . . . . Treu Kolping!

On Saturday, January 30th of this year, as intimate family and friends gathered at the Crypt of the National Basilica of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception, Washington, DC, twelve men prostrated on the stone floor and took their Solemn Vows of Poverty, Chastity and Obedience.

These new permanent “Dominican Brothers”, completed yet another step toward their Dominican preparation as priests, which will culminate in the next few years at Ordination.

Among the twelve was a former member of the New York Kolping Board and advisor of the Kolping Vocational Apostolate, KOVA, Daniel R. Dengler.

Daniel joined his other eleven candidate Brothers for Solemn Profession in the Order of Preachers in the privilege of serving the mission of the Catholic Church in bringing, nurturing and explaining the Faith of Our Fathers to all peoples of our world.

As his family shared the Reception for the now-Brother Pier-Giorgio Dengler, OP, at the Dominican House of Studies across the street from the National Basilica, the sun shone brightly on the new-fallen snow in our county’s Capital City. The festive and communal celebration was shared with the entire Dominican Community at their Seminary all day!

The newly professed Brothers ask us for prayers for their perseverance and success in their mission, as we, The Catholic Kolping Society, join with them in Spirit!

MARCH MADNESS and KOLPING submitted by Norbert Dengler “The Old Timer”

Most people know—at least the sport fans or sports minded folks in the USA—that the term “March Madness” refers to this time of the year when organized basketball play with multitudes of tournaments and playoff games, on college, high school and younger levels, all come together and to end the basketball “season”—all over the city, the regionals, states and throughout our country. Truly, America’s sport.

Most people DO NOT know—in fact only a very, very few, even Kolping members, know the unique connection that “MARCH MADNESS” has with New York Kolping, or perhaps even that New York Kolping had members—as a team—playing competitive “big city” basketball.

In the only Basketball “shutout” game known in history, Albert “Chick” Sartorius led the New York KOLPING basketball team in its 63 – 0 historic WIN over the East Side House Stars. KOLPING’s team included George Ulrich, Bobby Hersam, Norbert Dengler, John Schneider, Joe Fisher, John Noonan, Sal Maddi, Tom Dugan, Sal Mineo and Mal Wallace, who all joined in the overpowering victory. The win propelled KOLPING to its first place standing and the championship of the East Side House Manhattan league – made up of high school age boys teams, in “Yorkville” Manhattan. Chick Sartorius playing at Guard and Forward positions was one of the high scorers as well as in scoring assists, blocked shots and offensive rebounds and voted MVP.

Brooklyn Kolping Soccer and Cincinnati Kolping Soccer teams took continual “bragging rights” about their powerhouse Soccer teams. Cincinnati even played International and German teams. In fact, New York Kolping’s Soccer team led by such stalwarts as Eugene Grimm and Max Grimm in the 1930s, had established Kolping as a recognized sports power in pre-WWII New York.

However, in basketball, with the help of Albert Sartorius Sr., whose firm made and outfitted the Kolping basketball team’s Black and Orange, bold, striking uniforms, and Theobald Dengler VIII, Kolping Board member and Attorney for Kolping, George Holzner, Herman Teesch, Karl Hersam, Ludwig Strobel and others, authorized and organized the basketball team in the postwar 1940s; and the team went on to history. A “SHUT-OUT” GAME IN BASKETBALL! TALK ABOUT MARCH MADNESS!

SO PROUDLY WE HAIL:

The Life of Captain Alice Zwicker, U.S. Army Nurses' Corp. (1916-1976)

submitted by Martin A. Kelly

If they had decided to cast a new Statue of Liberty, the artists could have chosen no better lady to serve as model than the late Capt. Alice Zwicker, U.S. Army Nurses Corp. She epitomized the virtues that made America great.

Born in Brownville, a backwater town in Maine on August 6, 1916, she was one of four children. Growing up during the "Great Depression," she developed a spirit of service to others; namely in health care.

She entered Eastern Maine General Hospital in 1934, the first step in her studies. On rotation at Boston Children's Hospital she contracted undulant fever, a disease in which the immune system attacks the host's body tissue, especially, the heart. After being cured, she resumed her studies and was graduated with the R.N. (Registered Nurse) degree. But Alice wanted to see more of the world and what better way to do it than join the Army Medical Corp.

World peace (1938-41) teetered on a narrow wire. The threat in the Atlantic was obvious but not ominous; in the Pacific invisible, but imminent. Commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant, Alice was stationed in the Philippines.

On Sunday, December 7, 1941, the Japanese staged a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, inflicting tremendous damage. What had been a war in Europe became a World War.

The strategy of the Allies was to give priority to the dangers in the Atlantic. After all, the Kriegsmarine sank 1,170 allied vessels there in 1942. This meant the bases in the Pacific were to be sacrificed to the Japanese invaders. Bataan fell April 9, 1942 and Corregidor May 5.

The nurses, Army and some Navy, were assigned to a hospital for POWs (Prisoners of War, American and other defenders) on what had been Santo Thomas University. They were undersupplied, malnourished, and exposed to tropical diseases. In spite of their best efforts, the average daily death count was 9. Alice contracted tuberculosis from working on the contagious ward. Later, it would ruin her marriage prospects when a suitor whose family had a history of the disease, changed his plans.

On their release, after almost 3 years living under slavish conditions, Alice and her comrades were promoted to Captain and given appropriate medals for heroic service. Fêted for their heroism, they formed a service organization and were hailed as the "Angels" (Angels of Bataan).

Alice came down with full-blown T.B. and was required to have her left lung removed. At the V.A. hospital, she met the Chaplain, Father George McKeon. He reconciled some doubts she had in Christianity. Brought up Protestant, she consulted a Catholic Chaplain in the prison camp (where he served as a medic) about the futility of their confinement. He had no answer, but Father George McKeon did and she became a Catholic. Later she would marry a former POW, Frank McAlevy in 1968. They resided in Park Slope, Brooklyn. On June 28, 1976, she died in the Methodist Hospital. She and her husband are interred in Holy Cross Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Alice and the other fine women with whom she served, had experienced their share of "blood, sweat, and tears" for the country they loved.

Like in the Old Soldier's ballad, "Ich hat ein Kamaderin" it ends.

Sie sollen schlafen in himmischer Ruh.
