NEWS FROM THE BRANCHES

Submitted by Jack McGee

Detroit Kolping will hold their Summer German Festival on July 3rd and 4th. Many of these activities are the same as we will have here in August at our Summer Oktoberfest.

The high point of the festival is the election of the King and Queen. There is much interest by Kolping members, town residents and the local newspapers. Publicity is spread throughout the Detroit community. There is an excitement for months ahead of time. "How many members have submitted entries? Who is in the running? Who will be crowned the Kolping King and Queen for the next year at the Coronation Ceremony?"

It's quite an exciting time for those participating in the election and adds a bit of high interest and a bit of tension for all in the months in preparation.

Once this summer activity has terminated Detroit jumps into its August charitable event. This August brings their "9th Annual Charity Golf Outing." They advertise "Come and join THE RAINBOW CONNECTION. Together we can make the wish of a child come true."

Detroit Kolping doesn't seem to stop. Society participation. Creative ideas. A thoughtful charitable project and a great deal of publicity in the ideals of Kolping!

The Sacred Heart of Jesus

In the Roman Catholic Church Calendar, June is dedicated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Specifically, June 15th has been set aside for Masses and outdoor Processions. Several hundred years ago, Christ appeared to a nun, in a convent in France, Sister Margaret Mary Alacoque, and asked her to spread a devotion to His Sacred Heart as a means to eternal salvation.

He made twelve promises to this nun for souls devoted to His Sacred Heart.

1. I will give them all the graces necessary in their state of life.
2. I will establish peace in their homes.
3. I will comfort them in all their afflictions.
4. I will be their secure refuge during life, and above all, in death.
5. I will bestow abundant blessings upon all of their undertakings.
6. Sinners shall find in my Heart the source and the infinite ocean of mercy.
7. Tepid souls shall become fervent.
8. Fervent souls shall quickly mount to high perfection.
9. I shall bless every place in which an image of my Heart shall be shown and honored.
10. I will give to priests the gift of touching the most hardened hearts.
11. Those who shall promote this devotion shall have their names written in my Heart, never to be effaced.
12. I promise thee, in the excessive mercy of my Heart that my all-powerful love will grant to all those who communicate on the First Friday in nine consecutive months the grace of final penitence: They shall not die in my disgrace nor without receiving their safe refuge in this last moment.

Father's Day with Saint Joseph

St. Joseph, guardian of Jesus, chaste spouse of Mary, you who spent your life perfectly accomplishing your duty, deign to protect those who turn to you with confidence. Amen.
(a prayer by Pope John XXIII)

Blessed Adolph Kolping turned to St. Joseph head of the Holy Family and its provider, to obtain all he needed to care for his poor journeymen.

He chose him as protector of the Catholic Kolping Society. Today we continue to confide our needs to St. Joseph, seeing him as a father in the likeness of our Heavenly Father whose providence watches over all of us. Amen

Stories of Interest

Dr. Scholl – Footcare Specialist submitted by Martin A. Kelly

We've all heard the complaint: "When your feet hurt, you ache all over." Well, someone determined to alleviate this source of torment; and, in the process, he became a household name: Dr. Scholl.

William Mathias Scholl was born in rural Indiana in 1882. At that time, most farm people bought their footwear in general stores or through mail order firms. In many cases, the "fit" was inaccurate, and blisters, corns, and bunions resulted.

An inventive lad, William borrowed his grandfather's cobbler's tools, brought over from Germany, and started repairing shoes and making corrective changes. At 18, William went to Chicago to work in a trendy shoe retail store where he discovered that the same foot maladies that plagued farmers bedeviled the city dwellers.

William was inspired to serve mankind by reducing shoe-related foot pain. He acquired a medical degree so that he could understand the mechanics of the foot and became a bonafide doctor (1904). Applying what he had learned, he invented the "Foot-eazer", an arch support that became an instant success.

It was the first of a line of foot aids that continues to the present: Zino pad (1918), elastic stockings (1936), air pillow inserts (1850), exercise sandals (1968) – to gel insoles (2007), among others.

A shrewd business man, Dr. Scholl exploited advertisements to boost sales. He sponsored walk-a-thons, foot beauty contests, and interviews with celebrities. In 1915, while establishing overseas shops, he is said to have fitted a pair of arch supports for Kaiser Wilhelm II.

After a full life of public service, he established a College of Podiatric Medicine in Illinois (1910). Dr. Scholl died in 1968, and, although his firm went public in 1971, his name lives on in thousands of pharmacies and shoe stores throughout the land.

William Mathias Scholl began his career in Chicago in 1899 in a small shoe store specializing in comfort and specialist footwear. He became so concerned for customers with painful foot conditions that he enrolled in medical school to study the anatomy and physiology of the foot.

By 1904 he had qualified as a doctor and launched his first footcare product, an arch support—The Foot-eazer.

By the 1930's the company expanded its range to the comfort of the legs and began to make a range of compression hosiery for the relief of swollen ankles and varicose veins. Dr Scholl was a prolific inventor and went on to create a range of remedy and cushioning devices covering the whole spectrum of common foot conditions.

In 1959 the first Scholl Exercise Sandal was created and became an international fashion hit and an icon for the brand. Known simply as "Scholls", they were worn by celebrities such as Twiggy and Jean Shrimpton throughout the 60's and 70's.

Where is God?

submitted by Martin A. Kelly

Sister Mildred was conducting the religious class for the 4th graders. Sister asked the class "Where is God?"

All the right hands of the students rose in unison. Sister choose a pupil who gave the correct answer, "In the Blessed Sacrament and in your heart". Sister approved the answer, but one had remained raised.

Sister asked the little girl if she wished to add something to where God is found. "Yes", said little Amy, "my bathroom because every morning, when I wake up, my father is banging on the bathroom door shouting, "My God, are you still in there?"

Broadway has huge overhead expenses and there are few productions that one would call "Budget." With most prices going way over the hundreds for orchestra seats, anything going into the $20 and $30 seats would be the cheapest and very limited at that. I did a little research and came up with a few which I've listed here. Enjoy.

Select seats with a page ad from the New York Daily News, Tuesday thru Friday evenings are currently selling for $35 at the Hilton Theater Box Office, 213 West 42nd Street, for the new musical THE PIRATE QUEEN. For additional information, they suggest you call 212-307-4100 or visit Ticketmaster.com with special code DPIRATE. This special $35 price is advertised "Now thru July 6th." and with the ad from the paper ... read on..

Beginning prices for "The Phantom at the Opera" are listed as $20; "The Color Purple" are listed as $26.25; "Company" are listed as $36.25; and "Les Miserables" are listed as $36.25.

"The Lion King" advertises tickets from $40; "Mary Poppins" from $25; "Monty Python's Spamalot" from $36.25; and "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee" is advertised from $25.

If you are in the neighborhood of "Hairspray", 250 West 52nd Street, drop your name off at the Box Office. They raffle off a limited number of tickets for $25 at 5pm, Neil Simon Theater.
