News and Notes

From Kolping Member Barbara Janny:

My family and I are walking in The Walk to D'Feet ALS (Lou Gehrig's disease) walkathon on Saturday September 30th, in Eisenhower Park on Long Island. We are walking in memory of my father Andrew Fuchs who lost his 2 year battle with ALS on October 18th, 2005. The Walk to D'Feet ALS brings people and communities together to create awareness about ALS. Proceeds from the walk support vital patient services and help The ALS Association in their urgent search for an effective treatment and a cure for Lou Gehrig's Disease.

If anyone would like to join our team (Andy's Angels) or make a donation – they can contact me at 914-245-7672, or they can go directly to the website: www.als-ny.org and follow the instructions.

A Little Humor: The Weeping Willow

Submitted by Martin A. Kelly

A visitor to a cemetery came across a man hugging a tombstone and weeping bitterly. The crying man mumbled "Why did you have to die, why did you have to die?"

The visitor was moved by compassion and hoped he could bring some solace to the weeping man. The visitor approached this pathetic scene and asked sympathetically "Oh! Your wife's grave?"

"No!" barked the weeping man, "her first husband's."

Octoberfest at KOH

After a bad forecast by the weathermen, we were blessed with a beautiful day. Thanks to so many of you who came up, ate, drank, danced, bought chances, and tried your luck at our booths. A special thanks to all who worked so hard to set up, prepare the food, work at the booths, and then do the big clean up the next day. This day is a major fund raiser for KOH and it also provides a chance to see friends.

Kolping-on-Concourse

The Feast of the Assumption

by Karen Byrnes, New York Kolping member

Earlier in the week, I received a call from Bernhard Preisser, telling me that Jorge Paris would be calling me to invite me and my friend, Joan Farrell to the Mass on the Feast of the Assumption. Even though I had been scheduled for the 7pm vigil of the Assumption Mass and the 8am Masses at St. Philip Neri, I was very pleased to go to the Kolping Mass on the Feast of the Assumption. I immediately called my friend, Rosemarie Lambot to offer her a ride to the Kolping Residence so she could attend the Mass and dinner. Rosemarie has been housebound since her dear husband, Vincent, died on May 7th this year. She wanted to get out of the house, but couldn't go downstairs because her elevator was being replaced. She was enthusiastic to get out to see the Kolping Board Members, friends, and residents at the Concourse Kolping Residence.

It was a wonderful evening for all of us. First, as I parked the car, Rosemarie and Joan Farrell were greeted by Jorge Paris, and went into the beautifully decorated chapel. Residents stopped to see Rosemarie as they entered the chapel to tell say "Hello" or to say how much they missed her.

Then, at 5:00pm, many Kolping Board members also entered the Chapel: Bernhard and Christine Preisser, Bob Hemsing, Marilyn and Norbert Dengler, Ann Horan, and Ted Dengler. The Mass was beautiful with organ music and hymns sung by Yolanda Corneille. At the time for our prayers and petitions, we remembered all the deceased members of the Kolping Society, especially Vincent Lambot. After the Mass—those who were able—joined the priests and Jorge to Our Lady's Garden to say special prayers for the Feast of the Assumption.

Joan and I brought Rosemarie into the dining room because she wasn't up to the walk in the garden. The dinner was prepared at the steam table: roast beef with au jus gravy, cold potato salad, cold beets, bean soup, bread, tea/coffee, and tartufu ice cream. Wine and sodas were available also.

After a few minutes, residents, and Kolping members came into the dining room. Many of them hadn't seen each other during the summer, and were talking about their vacations and the upcoming Kolping Convention in Detroit. Ann Horan told us all about a wonderful trip she took to Germany with the Hemsings, and Ted spoke about his wife, Erna and him spending some time at their summer home at the beach. Rosemarie was very happy to speak to each of them, and tell them she's doing well and very happy to be out of the house. Rosemarie said that she actually had 3 things in one week: on Sunday a visit to Vincent's grave and out to New Jersey with her dear friend, Mary Hanratty—then the Feast of the Assumption—and next Saturday a special 80th Birthday for her cousin. We're happy to see that she's busy, and going on with her life. In fact, Jorge Paris said he felt the presence of Vincent Lambot in the chapel. We are sure that Vincent was there with us, and will be always in the thoughts and prayers of Rosemarie Lambot because they always did everything together.

There are not sufficient words to acknowledge the great way that Jorge welcomes each of us every time we come to the Kolping residence. He can't do enough to make our visit a wonderful one! The Kolping Concourse Residence is always so clean, well-decorated, the Chapel elegant and prayerful, full of friendliness and welcoming. Thank you Jorge for everything!

Words Worth Noting

Thanks to God that He gave me stubbornness when I know I am right.

John Adams

The public and communal prayer of the people of God is rightly considered to be among the primary responsibilities of the church...for Christians are called to common prayer.

Rule of St. Benedict

It is easier to exemplify values than teach them.

Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, CSC

Impossibility: a word only to be found in the dictionary of fools.

Napoleon Bonaparte

The worst misfortune that can happen to an ordinary man is to have an extraordinary father.

Austin O'Malley

Canned music is like audible wallpaper.

Alistair Cooke

Twelve Highlanders and a bagpipe make a rebellion.

Scottish proverb

The universe is like a safe to which there is a combination, but the combination is locked up in the sage.

Peter de Vries

Today's reporter is forced to become an educator more concerned with explaining the news than with being first on the scene.

Fred Friendly

To keep the heart unwrinkled, to be hopeful, kindly, cheerful, reverent—that is to triumph over old age.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich

I believe in Christianity as I believe that the sun has risen. Not only because I see it, but because I see everything by it.
